November 2008

ALPHA CHI OMEGA'S DOMESTIC VIOLENCE AWARENESS PROGRAM

Every October, Alpha Chi Omega promotes awareness of domestic violence on the Case Western campus. AXO's domestic violence awareness program included putting up signs around the Case campus with facts and statistics, and organizing a self-defense class the Tae Kwon Do club. A silent candle light vigil called "Hidden Voices" was held at the KSL Oval where stories of domestic violence were shared with the community. All of the money raised from AXO's events went towards the Cleveland Domestic Violence Shelter. Alpha Chi also cooked and delivered meals for families at a local domestic violence shelter a couple of times throughout the semester.
