

STATEMENT OF ETHICS

The Office of Greek Life, the Greek Week Steering Committee, the Interfraternity Congress, and the Panhellenic Council realize that Greek activities, e.g. Greek Week, support the academic mission of Case Western Reserve University and therefore play a vital role in a Greek's education. We further realize that these activities provide important life skills concerning teamwork, sportsmanship, and more importantly, winning and losing. Through competition, Greeks learn self-discipline, build self-esteem and self-confidence, and develop the necessary skills to handle competitive situations.

CODE OF CONDUCT

- All Greeks attending and participating in an event shall not violate the alcohol and drug policies of Case Western Reserve University, the Greek Week Alcohol Policy, and the FIPG Policies during an event.
- During an event, all Greeks attending and participating in that event are expected to conduct themselves in a manner of sportsmanship that will reflect positively upon the Greek System, Case Western Reserve University, and the local community.
- The goal of Greek Week is to contribute to a Greek's education, but classroom work must still be the primary concern of each student. Each Greek is expected to maintain his/her classroom performance throughout Greek Week.
- All officials are expected to be treated with respect during an event by all Greeks participating and attending that event.
- For every event, the participating Greeks must have proper identification and display that identification when prompted by an official during the check-in period of the event.
- Enthusiasm is an inherent aspect of all competitive events; however, all participants are to maintain a level of respect for themselves and those around them.
- Any violation of these above policies or disregard for the spirit of Greek Week shall be dealt with first by the Officials of Greek Week and the Director of Greek Life, and second, if need be, by the Interfraternity or Panhellenic Judicial Boards.
